Welcome to Columbia, Where We're Famously Hot!

The Columbia, South Carolina area attractions are easy to find lying at the confluence of three rivers just downstream from a 50,000-acre recreational lake. Enjoying more than 300 days of sunshine per year, visitors can expect Columbia and the surrounding communities to offer an exciting variety of year-round attractions to explore. You'll find fascinating historical and cultural attractions, a world-class zoo, outdoor recreation, festivals, parks and sporting events.

During your conference stay, it will be steamy in South Carolina's capital city, where year-round fun and exploration heat up the cosmopolitan scene. With fiery restaurants, hotels, live music and theater venues -- our brand of low to no-cost fun will make your visit sizzle. We're proud of our simmer and spark, our firebrand history and bright, shining future. We welcome you to Columbia to sample the sultry South, with generous helpings of Carolina hospitality.

Don't forget to checkout The Vista, Columbia's Arts and Entertainment District. Paradise for your palate, featuring more than 55 restaurants, bars and cafes with great specialties just for your taste buds.

57TH ANNUAL CONFERENCE

NASAP CONFERENCE GUIDE

FEBRUARY 8 - 11, 2011
EMBASSY SUITES
COLUMBIA, SC

Co-Hosted By:
CLAFIN UNIVERSITY
SC STATE UNIVERSITY
VOORHEES COLLEGE

Cultivating Student Success: Accountability, Quality Improvements, and Excellence in Higher Education

The National Association of Student Affairs Professionals is on the leading edge regarding issues, solutions and professional development opportunities for student affairs professionals serving at Historically Black Colleges and Universities and for those professionals who serve minority populations in diverse settings around the country.

The Annual Conference provides a forum for professional growth and development for all who are involved in or work with students in the student affairs profession. The conference is open to professionals in higher education in general and to the nation's business industry.

We also welcome the integral involvement of undergraduate and graduate students and student leaders from member schools. Concurrent student-focused conference sessions provide professional and student attendees the opportunity to learn, network and create lasting friendships that endure beyond the conference.
